

Senior Years – makeChange 3 Poster Image

Poster Notes

At five years old, Hannah saw a man eating from a garbage can and knew that should not have to happen. “No one should have to eat out of a garbage can,” she said. “Everyone should have a home.” Instead of letting that be someone else’s problem, Hannah made it her own, and decided she could do something about it. Empowerment is as simple as seeing something that needs to change, believing in what you think is right, and knowing that you can help change it and make a difference for the better in our world.
